Farewell To . . .

Rural America

After more than 17 years of continuous publication, Rural America (formerly Rural Development Perspectives), closes out its run with this issue.

The executive editor and staff wish to thank our subscribers, readers, and contributors—authors, editors, typesetters, designers, and printers.

Please watch for ERS' new flagship magazine, to premiere in February 2003! Details on the inside back cover.